the kick on the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon, at the same time exhibiting about the fastest article of ball seen here in many a day. The New Yorks were made to look like a schoolboy team beside the Champions and soon gave up all hope of winning the context. Hanlon's men were like lightning on the bases and they fielded without an error. The New Yorks made a few misplays, but as a matter of fact their opponents were so quick that they had men on bases before the locals knew what was going on. The four hits scored by the Brooklyns in the second inning were all of the scratch order and had the men who satted the ball been in the field they would have eaten up the grounders that the New York man in that inning were made after two men had been retired.

In the fourth they got two more after two hands were out and when they came at the bat in the fifth Doheny lost his nerve. He hit keeler, the first man up, made a wild pitch, gave two bases on balls, was hit for a two-baser by Daly and landed a ball on McGuire's wrist. Hickman here made one of his daily bungles and when finally the third man had been retired the Brooklyns had registered four runs. The eighth liming was nearly as had for Doheny. He started off with a base as balls to Daly, then was hit for two singles in succession, and gave another base on balls. Jennings cleared the atmosphere with a two-baser to the 25-cent seats.

The Brooklyns made nearly every hit count, in the second inning, after McGuire had reached first base on balls. Pitcher Howell knocked the sphere on top of the rail of the right field bleachers. It bounded into the crowd and the ball about two inches from the ground and then rolled over and over. but held fast to it. Doyle made two fine one-handed eathers, both of which, on account of the closses of the plays, caused vigorous kicks on the part of the Brooklyns. DeMontreville, who was on the coaching line, became so vehement in his talk to the umpire that he was sent to the bench. The decisions were perfectly fair as were all of O'Day

Cross Wins a Suit Against the Philadelphia

Club. Another ball player has won a suit against a Leagu magnate. Following the victory of Fred Pfeffer in his suit against Freedman comes the announcement that Lave Cross, the Brooklyn third baseman, has just received a verdict in the courts, awarding to him a claim of $353 against the Philadelphia club. It appears that when Cross was transferred by Philadelphia to St. Louis he demanded $300 back salary. He had to sue for it and, it is understood, he got it on Friday before the Champions left Quakertown.

at the lack of interest shown in this country in this sport. Frenchmen, he says, look upon the Americans as the greatest rifle shots in the world and for that reason special effort was made to have a team from here contest in the international match.

Prominent riflemen in this country deplore the inability of the French representative to bring about the match and say that the fault lies not in the lack of our having great rifles out but in the lack of our having great rifles of but in the lack of an active governing body to control and stimulate the sport.

Gen. Bird W. Spencer, Inspector-General of Rifl. Practice of New Jersey and a great enthusiast in rifle shooting, comes forward with a scheme whereby an American team may take part in the French matches. Several of our best shots will be at the Exposition about the time that the matches take place and he basissued an invitation for such riflemen to meet at the New Jersey State Range at Sea Girt, on July 4, 5 and 8, to organize as a team and shoot at the French distance and targets. The team, when organized, will receive credentials as representatives of the National Rifle Association of Ameica.

The match for the world's championship only calls for teams of five men, which fact should render it easy to get a team together. Any rifle with plain, open sights is allowed.

It was learned to-day that the purchaser of the 30-footer Dorothy II., formerly owned by Harry Payne Whitney, is Clarence W. Dolan of Philadelphia, who has a cuttage here. Mr. Dolan will race her in the summer series.

The 70-footer Yarkee, owned by Messrs. Hermann B. Duryea and Harry Payne Whitney, will be turned over to the owners at Bristol on Monday and come direct to Newport. Capt. Nick Peterson, who is in command, has had the yacht rigged and sails bent and she is all ready to join the rest of her class.

Royal Arcanum Day Sports.

Thousands of members of the Royal Arcanum gathered at Ulmer Park on Gravesend Bay vesterday to celebrate the twent"-third anniversary of the order. There we a series of versary of the order. There were a series of track and field sports on the oval at the park, some splendidity contested aquatic events and in the evening a vaudeville performance and fireworks. The feature of the competitions on track and field was the work of John C. Dovle of Citizens' Council of New York, who captured a majority of the events and a lot of prizes.

Cricket.

For the second time this year the New York Cricket Club presented a short-handed team in a championship game of the New York Cricket Asso clation. They did this yesterday at Prospect Park in their game with the Knickerbocker A. C., and as a consequence they were easily defeated by 86 runs.
F. F. Kelly and A. V. Clarke both hit hard and well for the Knickerbockers for their respective scores of 69, not out, and 42; but the greatest surprise of the day was produced by the bowling of M. Whittaker. His delivery went unsolved by the New York batsmen, and he was eventually credited with the remarkable average of five wickets for 10 runs. F. J. Loughlin was the only New York batsman to reach double figures, with a good inning of 28, but A. E. Smith made a great effort by careful play to turn the defeat into draw. The totals were 147 (declared) to 61.

The Brooklyn club leader in the race for the pennant of the New York Cricket Association, had the Nelson Lodge team as opponents at Prospect Park, and a thour h the latter put up a grood basising game the scientific play of D. Boxill and J. P. dow gained the day for Brookeyn, and they won by 25 tims. E. A. Skyne, G. Bernett, J. Huntand R. W. Powell all got into double figures, but the other seven men added only 8 tims among them. The totals were: Nelson Lodge, 76 Brooklyn, 101.

The Columbia Oval Cluo tackled the Manhattans and made a good showing against their more experienced opponents. L. Mara solved the bowling and put on 30 in a lively style, while E. Murphy and A. C. Canning both got into the honor list. For Manhattan J. Flannery made 48, C. S. Moore retired with 39 to his credit, and W. Adam and S. E. Hosford contributed double figures. The totals were: Columbia Oval, 34; Manhattan, 148.

The fourth game at Prospect Park was between two teams of the Brooklyn cluo under the capitalney of B. Harrand and G. Jemmott. Owing: to a late start. nant of the New York Cricket Association, had the Hosford contributed double figures. The totals were: Columbia Oval, 94: Manhattan, 143.

The fourth game at Prospect Park was between two teams of the Brooklyn cluo under the captaincy of R. Harrand and G. Jemmott. Oving to a late start there was not time to finish the game and an even there was not time to finish the game and an even draw was the result. H. O. Scale distinguished himself for Jemmott's team with an inning of 52, not out, which was top score of the day. The totals were: R. Harrand's team, 101 [G. Jemmott's team; 66 for two whickeds.

Quite a crowd of cricket enthusiasts visited Central Park to witness the games which took place there. The principal contest was the match between Tram B of Patr'sm and the Caribbeans. The bowling of A. Brown, a recent arrival from the other side, was too much for the Caribbeans and they suffered defeat by 21 runs. J. Moore and V. Bilss both expibited good form withighte bat for the winners, while G. Watson reached double figures for the Caribbeans. The totals were: Caribbeans 41; Paterson Team B. 64.

The secrol game at Central Pata was between the Antilees and the Bermida clubs. L. Boxili played a good inning of 26, not out, for the Antilees, and calefy through this his team gaine; the victory by 36 runs. The only man to reach double figures for the Bermidas was W. C. Gibbons with 14. The totals were: Antilees, 68: Bermidas, 32.

The Montclair A. C. played its second league game with the Livingston Field Club at Staten Island and through the splendid all-round play of M. R. Cobb, the visitors suffered defeat by 107 runs. Cobb played a magnificent luntar of 53 and followed this up by taking 5 wickets from 30 runs. A. E. Mimin bowled in capital form for Montclair and secured 6 wickets for 54 runs. The totals were Livingston Field Club, 177; Montclair A. C., 60.

PATERSON, June 23.—The second team of the Montclair Cricket Club came here with two men short this afternoon and was defeated in an association game is East Side Park by Team A of the Montclair Cricket Club

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. W. A. LADUE'S SENSATIONAL CYCLE

RACE AT MANHATTAN BEACH.

With Teams of Men Taking Turns Helping Each Other Against Him He Rides Alone and Is Gaining When Overcome by Heart Failure - Major Taylor's Reappearance. An exhibition of pluck and good riding, such as never was seen before on a bicycle racetrack at least by anybody in this section of the country was made yesterday afternoon at Manhattar In an unlimited pursuit race between the three-men teams of four clubs Ladue wore down nine of the twelve men on the track. He rode alone for more than seventeen miles against the remnants of the other teams, and finally the last two mates of the Kings County Wheelmen, who were, of course, taking turns pacing. He was in the lead from the start and was gaining on the last two riders when the strain began to tell. For three laps he lost slightly, and then, after having ridden a total of twenty-two miles and one lap, he toppled from his wheel and rolled helpless on the track. Dr. I. M. Holly of the Kings County Wheelmen pronounced it a case of heart failure and gave him a hypodermic injection of nitro-glycerine within a minute, and Ladue was revived and saved from anything more serious than the temporary collapse.

The race was one of the Kings County Wheelmen's nineteenth annual meet and there was an attendance of about three thousand. There were three features on the card-the interwere three reatures on the card—the inter-club team pursuit race, the paced race between little Walter Smith and Johnny King, and the first appearance of the season in New York of Major Taylor, but the pursuit race eclipsed every other event almost totally. It is an odd co-incidence that at the K. C. W. meet of last year there was a pursuit race that became historic. It was that of W. F. Wahrenberger of the Green-wich Wheelmen, whose team mates drouted every other event almost totally. It is an odd coincidence that at the K. C. W. meet of last year there was a pursuit race that became historic. It was that of W. F. Wahrenberger of the creenwich Wheelmen, whose team mates dropped out and left him to fight out a pursuit for nearly seventeen miles, which he did and won against the combined forces of the others. Ladue's ride of yesterday was, however, far ahead of Wahrenberger's. The distance was greater, the wind stronger and he was earlier left to his own resources. Four teams started. The Newburgh Wheelmen were represented by Ladue, Thomas and Grace; the Harlen Wheelmen had Lake, Schreiber and Bedeil for champions; the Kings County Wheelmen had in Ratliff, Morrison and Beyerman. The teams started from different places on the track, equidistant from each other. The rule was that any man overtaken by one of those behind was out. After going one mile Grace of the Newburgh Wheelmen quit. Early in the fourth mile Morrison of the Riversides cracked and Gropped out. Before the fourth mile ended LaDue and Thomas of the Newburghs, who, although they were against teams of three, overtook and put the other two Riverside men out of the race. In the flith mile Thomas was forced to quit the hot piace for LaDue. In the same mile Schreiber of the Harlems gave out. This left LaDue alone to battle against three Kings county men and two of the Harlems. Not only did the the couple and the trio. taking turns at team pacing fail to gain on the lone rider, but he actually gained on the teams.

The crowd was frantic with enthusiasm for the plucky man who was preasting a stiff ocean breeze alone while the others were getting shiltered behind one another turn and turn about. In the paced race the two youngsters of great speed alternated positions every lap or two and until the last four laps were never more than twenty yards apart. King frequently lost his pace, though not seriously and every one picked the sixteen-year-old record breaker Smith as the winner. Smith was leading in the ninth mile when he seemed to crack. He lost his pace and King passed him. Smith could not take the stiff dose of pace then necessary and King slowly drew ahead until he won by a full half mile at the end of the tenth mile, thereby saving his reputation as the undefeated amateur pace follower.

In the handicap for professionals the dis-tance men held a pace that prevented the cracks on scratch from beating them, although they bunched in the stretch. It was a similar case in the half-mile handicap for amateurs. The mile amateur open was captured by Schrieber by half a length from Scoffeld. Summaries; One-Third of a Mile. TROTTING AND PACING.

Flanagan and Floyd-Jones Teams to Trot for

$2,000 Stakes at Empire City Park. The rivalry among the owners of some of the crack trotting teams that have figured in the brushes on the Speedway this season promises to result in a big sweepstakes race for the championship at the Empire City track. W. C. Floyd-Jones, who owns Casselton, 2:164, and Knoxena, 2:284, and De Witt C. Flanagan, the young Morristown reinsman who drives Kingwood, 2:1714, to pole with Litle Belle, 2:2314, have agreed to go into such a race for $1,000 a corner, to trot at the matinee of the Road Drivers' Association on July 14. If no other owners wish to take a hand in the contest, Mr. Floyd-Jones and Mr. Flanagan will make it a match race, but the door is open to anybody who has confidence enough in his team to stake $1,000 on the speed of the pair. The winner of the race is to take all the money. With it will go a handsome souvenir cup to serve as a reminder of the victory. This trophy is to be presented by the Road Drivers' Association. Messrs. Flanagan and Fl. yd-Jones invited John F. Cockeriil to enter his Antonio trotters, Swift, 2:18%, and Honor Bright, 2:28%, in the race, but the owner of the team objected to the early date proposed for the contest, saying his horses were not in shape to trot mile heats, two in three. Mr. Cockerill offered, however, to enter them in a sweep for $1,000 or $2,000 a corner to trot at the Grand Circuit meeting in Septembe trof at the Grand Circuit meeting in September. The owners of the other teams declined to wait so long; and unless their present plans are changed they will race next month. Kingwo d and Little Belle were timed a quarrer of a mile in 0:31½ on the Speedway last month. The Floyd-Jones pair trotted a mile to pole at Empire City Park a few days ago in 2:20½.

A. J. Welch and Orlando Jones, who recently leased the Empire City trotting track for a Grand Circuit meeting in September, have decided to open four or more stake races for the trotters and pacers. Though the season is far advanced for installment purses, the managers of the meeting hope to get a good number of advanced for installment purses, the managers of the meeting hope to get a good number of entries, as they expect the men who last fall joined the movement against stakes closing pror to July 1, and who entered in none of the early-closing races of the Grand Circuit this year, to back them up in the expriment. If the late-closing stakes here receive liberal patronage from the horse owners the boycotters may induce other associations to follow the lead of New York next season and eventually win the fight. On the other hand, if the Empire City stakes are not well supported the horse owners cannot hope to see whiter-closing races abolt hed. The New York meeting will open on Monday, Sept. 10 and will probably continue six days.

open on Monday, Sept. 10 and will probably continue six days.

President Clausen of the Park Board announced vesterday a new rule for the Speedway which will met with the approval of all road riders who drive fast horses there. Heretofore there has been no restriction as to the direction in which horses might be speeded, although on reariy every other driveway of the kind in the country the brushing must be in one direction only. Head-on co lisions have been narrowly averted on many occasions since the Harlem River Speedway was thrown open to the public, and Mr. Clausen has finally decided to require everybody to go slow when driving up the road toward Dyckman street.

BROOKLYN ROAD HORSES WIN AGAIN Quarterstake Defeats Dariel in Wagon Races af Drivers' Association

Brooklyn road horses once more proved to be too fast and level-headed for the Speedway flyers at the wagon races held yesterday under the auspices of the Road Drivers' Association on the old Guttenburg racetrack. Nat Ward's brown gelding. Quarterstake, from the Parkway Driving Club, won the highest honors of the day by defeating, in the fast time of 2:16, the queen of Speedway pacers, Dariel. 2:071, and a number of other Manhattan steppers. Dariel was timed a mile in 2:06 on the Speedway one day last week, going with the wind. That she was not able to pace within ten seconds of the time made on the straight road is taken by many horsemen to indicate that the Speedway. under certain conditions, is fully ten seconds fa-ter than a regulation mile track. The mare turned too short on the track yesterday, over-turning the road wagen and throwing out her driver. For a moment it looked as though a full-fledged runaway would be seen, but Darie was stopped in time to avert any further mishap. Isaac A Hopper's pacing stallion Lucre, 2:18'4, beat her for second place.

McKiyley, another Parkway pacer, won the handsome cup given by Michael Reld for horses of the 2:20 class, beating President Kane's fast mure Laura W. and three others at half-mile heats. Ex-Sheriff Frank, Creamer added on Major Taylor proved himself the speedy boy of old, but he failed to get better than third in a close finish in the half-mile open. He remarked before the race that he was "good but not quite right, yet."

In the paced race the two youngsters of great speed alternated positions every lap or two and until the last four laps were never more than twenty yards apart. King frequently lost his pace, though not seriously and every one picked the sixteen-year-old to crack. He lost his pace and king passed to crack the two voungsters of the kesore of Brooklyn victories by driving his fast tretter Latitude to the front in more to the score of Brooklyn victories by driving his fast tretter Latitude to the front in more to the score to the Hossmore Cup. Angelus and Ethel B., the Manhattan starters, could not force the Parkway representative to trot faster than 2224%.
